SUPER BUKOVAC!

Bob Bukovac won the Charleston Chess Club Championship Quad, a super feat indeed. Bob accomplished this with a tremendous comeback in the last two rounds. (At one point he was in last place!) We expect great things from Bob now. For years the winning of the Charleston title has been a signal of the coming of age of young Charleston players. (Just look where young Bob Bonwell is today after winning last year's tournament!)

Dennis Funkhouser and Brent Haynes finished in second with 1½-1½ records. (Bob was 2-1) Some fish finished last with a 1-2 record. We will have a report and some games next issue. (About August 15. for those of you who are timing me and laughing at how wrong my projections are)

*****

We hear through the grapevine (John Dudley in this case) that the USCF intends to change the name of the different rating classes. According to John 2000-2199 will be candidate master, 1800-1999 will be expert, and so on. Hmmmm.

*****

On June 16, 1979 the Charleston Chess Club journeyed to Moundsville to play the prison chess club. They won 14½-3½. Representing Charleston was Dennis Funkhouser, Charles Szasz, Rick Baruffi, John Szasz, Carl Kiser, Ted Quast, Andy Glancy, John Rosuh, and Jerry Engle.

*****

Several years ago a team tournament was held between six of the state's chess clubs. Wouldn't it be good to have it again?

Last year the K & Q club had a team tournament which was nice, but not quite the same.

*****
A reminder: The state championship is only two months away. (Sept. 1-3)

It's high time plans were being made to be in Charleston for the event. After all it's the highlight of West Virginia chess.

*****

Speaking of tournaments the Kanawha Valley Open is coming up in less than a month, too. It's being held on Aug. 4-5 in Charleston. (See page 8 for details.)

FUNK. WINS M.O.

Dennis Funkhouser won the Mountaineer Open with a perfect 4-0 score. Ho-hum. Nothing unusual about that occurring in WV. Well,.....

..... Actually, there were a couple of real surprizes in this tourney. The first surprize was that Dennis finished first despite the presence of William Martz (International Master) and Charlie Hertan (2150 or thereabouts) in the field. The second zinger was that Dennis managed this without playing anyone over 1700!!

In the words of Charlie Hertan, "By some incredible hole in the Swiss cheese, Funkhouser(1958), with 3-0, was paired against a 1350 (Ray Spring) in the last round! Admittedly, Mr. Spring is clearly under rated by a few hundred points; still, it must be considered incredibly lucky when a 1950 goes 4-0 and wins $200 without having to play any of the top 7 players, facing nobody rated over 1700!!

But Martz took it perfectly in stride, despite the fact that he is a chess professional who derives much of his income from prize funds. He told Dennis, "You played well.", without a hint of sarcasm and congratulated him on his victory. When TD Dudley "awarded" us with our $12.50 (each) = second place prizes, Martz nonchalantly remarked, with a slight gleam in his eye, "Good prize!" Throughout the weekend everyone was captivated by Martz's friendly, unaffected manner and delightful sense of humor."

To his credit, Hertan also avoided bitterness despite the fact that not too many years ago the pairings would have probably been Martz-Funkhouser and Hertan-Spring. He went on to write, "As for me, drawing an IM was one of the highlights of my life, and I was more than satisfied with my play in the tournament. But I still can't help marvelling at the kind of strange justice in the world that rewards Dennis with $200 for being a 1350 while I get $12.50 for drawing an IM (with the black pieces even!) "(It appears that the avoidance of bitterness wasn't total! However, in the words of a prominent Charleston area player, "Them's the breaks!"---Editor)

Anyway, here are a few games from this tournamant.

- 19.Be7! b4! 20.Qe3!
(20.Qb3 Qd7 loses a piece for white, as do all other moves.)
- 20...Bd4!
(The point of white's play is that 20...Qc7 21.Bf8 Bd1 22.Bg7 leaves white better, but now after 21.Qe1?? Qc7 22.Bf8 Bd1, white loses a piece.)

- 21.Rd4?
(This move restores the material balance but leaves white with a lost ending. Correct is 21.Bd8 Be3 (Bd1?? Qd3) □ 22.gf3. Here I had calculated 22...Bd4, attacking the Bd8 and Pb2, but white has a brilliant rejoinder, as pointed out by Martz: 23.b3!=. 22...Bc5 is slightly better, but after 23.Rd2 black's minute positional advantage is not enough to win.)
- 21...Qd4 22.Qd4 Rd4 23.Bf8 Bg2
(...Rg4 allows white's B the g3 square after which white has drawing chances with 24.Bd6! Bg2 25.Bg3. Simplest is 23...Kf8 24.gf3 Rd2, after which black must win.)
- 24.Bh6 Rg4! 25.Rc1 f6!

 11...Bf6 12.g3!

(An origional solution. White must not allow the K-side to be closed, when his whole attacking set-up would look silly.)

12...Ng7
 (Black begins to defend resourcefully,
 holding off the K-side storm.
 Understandably the line 12...Bg5?!
 13.hg5 f4 14.gf4 ef4 15.Nf4 Qg5
 16.Nce2, opening lines against his own K, did not appeal to him.)
 13.Bh3 Na6 14.O-O-O Nc7 15.ef5!
 (A surprize! White voluntarily releases his central stronghold.
 But he has a diabolical plan in mind - to plant a N on e4 whereby his K-side attack suddenly becomes irresistible.)

15...gf5
 (Equally bad were ...Nf5 16.Ne4

16...Be7 17.Be7 Qe7 18.h5+ or 16.g4!

(Of course! Now the decisive penetration, Ne4, cannot be prevented.)

16...Be7 17.Rdg1 f4 18.Ne4 Nce8
(Still trying to rally his defensive forces. b5 was a better practical try, though after 19.Be7 Qe7 20.h5 White's attack soon reaches decisive proportions.)

19.N2c3! Rb8 20.Nb5 Bd7

(The only move to meet the threat of 21.Be7 Qe7 22.h5 h6 23.g5! hg 24.h6 ect.)

21.Nbd6! Nd6 22.Nd6 Bg5 23.hg5 Bg4 24.Rg4 Qd6 25.Rh4 h5

(Desparation. On Rf7, the most elegant win is 26.Rh7! Kh7 27.Be6+ Kg6 28.Rh6+ Kg5 29.Qh2 and Black must sac a queen to prevent mate in one)

26.gh6 e.p. Nf5

(It's a pity that Black did not allow the picturesque finish ...Ne8 27.Be6+ Kh8 28.Qg2 Qe7 29.Qg7+ Ng7 [though Qg7 is better] 30.hg7+ Kg7 31.Rg1+ Kf6 32.Rh6++ 27.Bf5 Rf5 28.Qg2+ Kf7 29.Qg7+ 1-0 (Ke8 30.h7 is convincing.)

SMITH WINS C.O.

Mark Smith topped the field at the annual Charleston Open. Mark, one of the leading attacking players in the state for years, scored an impressive 4½ points out of 5. Perennial power Dennis Funkhouser finished second with a 4-1 record.

This year's event was held at the Hotel Daniel Boone on May 5th and 6th. It drew a small (14) but powerful group of players. The average rating of the entire group was 1613. The average rating of the top 8 players was 1801!

CHAS. C. C. C.

Bob Bukovac, Brent Haynes,* Dennis Funkhouser, and John Roush emerged from the marathon 15 week Charleston Chess Club Championship as qualifiers to the Championship Quad. (See page 1 for the results)

Dennis Funkhouser (11-1) and Brent Haynes(10-2) qualified from section "A". John Roush (12-1) and Bob Bukovac(11½-1½) came from section "B".

Participating in such a tournament is quite an experience. Too long to be too exciting, it was yet too tense to become boring.(At least for potential Qualifiers!!) I would advise everyone who loves chess, hates the network's Tuesday night offerings, and has loads of stamina to try to play in this unique(for W.Va.) event.

Here are a few games from the event.

HERTAN REFUTES

C.Herten," I was rather disappointed upon reading the March bulletin. I feel that it did me two injustices, which I would now like to correct. The first injustice, though innocent enough, is very amusing: Since returning to W. Va., my record in WVCA tournaments was (at the time the bulletin was printed) 19 wins, 1 loss, and 3 draws. Imagine my surprize when I noticed my results in the published games of the March issue: 1 loss and 3 draws!! The editor is not to be faulted, though; apparently my wins were simply not submitted."

The second wrong doing Charlie mentioned was the interpretation of his game with Timberlake. He now presents a more lengthy analysis.

Craig Rabatin won the 1979 W. Va. Jr. High School Championship with a perfect 6-0 record. This is Craig's second Jr. High title in a row.

Williamstown won the team title with an 18-6 record. Fairmont West finished second with  $17\frac{1}{2}$  points.

Individually, David Moneypenny finished second on tie break over David Rickman. The All-Tournament Team included Rickman, Greg Cunningham, Perry Hickman, Mike Roush, Mark Harless, Reggie Osenton, Daniel Morgan, James Hamwely, Dale Dziedzki. ( $4\frac{1}{2}-1\frac{1}{2}$ \*

Other schools participating included Marmet(16), Man( $15\frac{1}{2}$ ), Point Pleasant and Richwood(14), Midland Trail and Mannington( $13\frac{1}{2}$ ), Andrew Jackson  $10\frac{1}{2}$ ), and Sissonville ( $3\frac{1}{2}$ ), Nitro Jr., and Faith Christian Academy.

Sixty-two players were there. Here are a couple of games. The Rabatin-Moneypenny game decided the title.

 16.Kf3

(In hindsight 16.Rd3 looks better, but after ...Nd7 intending Nc5 the R is misplaced or 16.Rc1=) 16...b5!

(With this shot Black frees his game and obtains full dynamic equality, though he must thread his way through some intriguing complications. The simplest point is that after 17.cb? e5! wins the N with check and decides.)

17.e5! de5 18.fe5 Nd7 19.e6!

(The best move!! 19.cb Be5 allows black easy equality; the attempt to hold the pawn on b5 by 20.Ke4? f5+ 21.Kd3 (Kd5?? e6++!)
