Greetings,

This has been a tumultuous quarter for West Virginia and this editor personally. The historic state teacher strike spread to 46 of our 55 counties. The effects were felt by teachers, parents, students, legal professionals, and government employees alike. The consequences even spilled over into the world of chess.

It is times like these that remind one that chess is only a game. Occasionally it must take a backseat to the events of the real world. But thank goodness we have such a wonderful diversion from our everyday problems.

On an upbeat note, summer is almost upon us. The time for vacations and large money tournaments has arrived. Here is to good hunting for all mountaineer players.

It appears that some gremlins snuck into my PC. Unfortunately they were not well versed in spelling. You will notice several ink corrections.

One correction in particular revolves around the Capitol Open. I originally spelled it Capital, because the tournament is no longer being played in the Capitol complex. After further thought I noticed that it was also not being played in the capital city. The final spelling reflects the organizers spelling.

The Charleston Chess Club should consider renaming this event to reduce confusion. How about the "Capitol Memorial", the "almost Capital Open", or just "that big tournament in January". At any rate I'm sure the Charleston organizers will come up with a capital idea.

It is almost time for someone else to take up the pen of the WWC. As tradition has it I will not run for another term this year. The job is demanding but is full of rewards. There are only a few qualifications. Candidates must be reliable and have access to a PC or word processor (This job would be easier with only a typewriter).

Regards,

Larry J. Riley

Eastern Panhandle Action III

December 3, 1989

Martinsburg, WV

TD - T Riley

A dark day has dawned in Martinsburg. A plague once thought eradicated from our beautiful state, has reared its ugly head. AIDS you ask, well that too. But, this disease is the Dutch?! Defense including the most violent strain of all, the Storewall Variation. The incubation period was rather short at 40/gams.

As I write this, inoculations are being prepared. One old name was dusted off as you may see below (Riley-Buttles). As you may know, Dr. Mallott is also working on a cure (Mallott-Anders and Mallott-Sawyer). Readers unfamiliar with this dilemma should review the Bulletins from 1983.

The tournament left three shell-shocked survivors. Dr. Stephen Mallott, Robert Burkhardt, and Terry Riley tied for first with 3 points each. Winning the under 1500 prize was Troy Polkey.

1990 CAPITAL OPEN

January 20-21, 1990

Institute, WV

FD. D. Griffith

The 1990 Capital Open was held at the Vocational Rehabilitation Center in Institute. The tournament was efficiently directed by Donald Griffith. There was a surprisingly small field for a Charleston event. Nevertheless there were many unforeseen twists to the debacle.

The winner was Joseph Felber of New York. This is another New Yorker trying to make the circuit of all 50 states. Second place was garnered by Mark Hathaway and Jeff Hohn. The 'B' prize went to John Brewster and Gary Morris. The Under 1600 prize was tied for by David Michael and Chuck Waugh (Both players broke 1600 with this tourney).

This tournament will go down in the annuals of West Virginia History as the week Chucky got lucky. Chuck Waugh defeated not one, not two, but three higher ranked players. Winning against Skeen, Tucker, and Riley. The major contributing factor was the absence of that odious resound "I offer a draw". Congratulations Mr. Waugh!

The crosstable may be viewed on page 20.

BOOK REVIEW

ESSENTIAL CHESS ENDINGS EXPLAINED MOVE BY MOVE.

Author Jeremy Silman Editor Ken Smith

Published by Chess Digest AN p. 189 Price: List $12.95

This is truly an outstanding work by Mr. Silman. This is the first and only endgame book to my knowledge that doesn't take anything for granted. Many players become discouraged playing through endgame books, as their numerous questions go unanswered. This book will change all of that.

Mr. Silman begins his book with the clearest explanation of opposition and outflanking seen anywhere. From there the book deals with all the basic mates from queen versus king, to bishop and knight mates

The various type of endgames are then discussed. The important king pawn endgames with triangulation, and the use of opposition are mastered. In rook endgames the important Lucena and Philidor positions are illustrated. In bishop endgames the importance of bishop color is demonstrated. An interesting drawing technique is covered in the knight endgames (One which saved this editor 1/2 point already). The final section deals with queen versus an advanced pawn. (The star technique is also covered as in FELBER - RILEY)

Throughout the book are valuable axioms of the endgame. There are also a few self-tests of the covered concepts. The only possible major drawback to this book appears to be Silman's attempt at wit.

The book is strongly recommended for players below 2000. Since reading it, this editor has gained about 150 rating points (Although I did read a few other things along the way). It is instructive and can be used periodically as a refresher course. For the more advanced players some of the material can be skipped.

TEST YOUR ENDGAME ABILITY

AUTHOR: AUGUST LIVSHITS and JONM SPEELMAN

Published by: MacMillan Chess Library FAN p. 201 List Price $9.95

As endgame books go this one is rather unusual. It is broken down into the various types of endgames. Each section has a brief history of that type of position and usually a few important points to remember. The remainder of the book consists of 522 timed endgame positions.

You are given sets of 6 endgame positions and an amount of time to complete the positions. You are asked to write the best continuation for each player WITHOUT moving any pieces. This makes the studies similiar to tournament conditions. I would suggest you take a short break between each position and even consider checking your answers before moving on.

After each set of 6 tests, the correct set of moves are given and some results of the wrong moves. You are awarded points based on your results, which can be calculated into an endgame rating scale.

As you work through the positions you will be exposed to numerous endgame tactics. This is the perfect book to try out the basic concepts learned from Silman's book.

1990 Charleston Chess Club Championship

February - April 1990

Charleston, WV

TD - D. Funkhouser

This year's field of combatants is comprised of 9 players. There are 4 experts in the group including Funkhouser, Griffith, Walker, and Roush. These four are considered the favorites. The darkhorse category (Under 2000) consists of: Cornell, Morris, Michael, Waugh, and Graham.

Dennis Funkhouser claimed sole ownership of the title this year. His score was an impressive 7.5 out of 8. His only imperfection was a draw with defending champ John Roush. Following close behind were Donald Griffith with 7 and John Roush with 6.5. Finishing fourth and winning the under 2000 section was David Michael with 5. David has jumped 152 points in two tournaments!

The crosstable may be viewed on page 19.

Following are the games. The majority are included. The games from round 3 and 9 have not yet made it out of the Charleston atmosphere. The remainder will hopefully appear next issue. Makeup games have been inserted into their correct rounds. Readers should also note that Cornell forfeited 4 games.

This round should also be quiet with none of the heavyweights playing one another.

YMCA HUNTINGTON CHAMPIONSHIPS

Following is a game from the 1990 YMCA Huntington Championship. Hopefully a crosstable and a few games will surface from Huntington. The following game is annotated by the Honorable Dan O'Hanlon.

DAN O'HANLON B - PAUL SMITH A TORRE ATTACK D03

Nh5 Qe4? 21...f5 is probably better, but that would lose two pawns. 22. Qg3+ Kd7?? 23. Nf6+ 1-0

As of June the State Championship details are still unavailable. The winner of the bid was the Wheeling area. The President has not changed the sita yet, as is his prerogative when details and a contract are not available. I'm keeping my fingers crossed for an ad in the August and/or September Chess Life.

Hope for the best, but find your OHIO road map just in case.

The next issue you ask? Well it all depends on you. You send it and I'll try to print it. Distribution will probably be at the Labor Day Championships, with mailings to follow for non playing members.

Congrats to John Roush for his first place finish in the 1990 Fredericksburg Open. With a perfect score going into the last round, he took a quick draw to finish 3.5 out of 4. Of course the six hour drive home probably had nothing to do with the draw.

At this same tournament were a pair of former members. Terry Auvil and Jeff Crook were in attendance. The pair can be found residing in Lanham, Maryland and playing out of the Laurel Chess Club.

The Great WV Shootout was cancelled due to lack of interest. The tournament would have conflicted with the annual club championships in several cities.
