WHEELING CHESS PLAYERS FORM CLUB

Our newest chess club organizer, William Cuthbert, 88 Washington Avenue, Wheeling, is meeting with success in the early stages of his attempt to form a group of chess players in his home city, and from the progress already made, we predict he will carry the effort forward to complete success.

A letter from Bill, under date of May 27, says:

"The Wheeling Chess Club is now in existence, though perhaps not too lustily. We had our first meeting Monday evening, May 19, at the Wheeling YMCA. Kurt Fox, secretary of the Y, made us welcome, donated three sets of chessmen and six boards, and gave us the use of a very good room. Orchids to him and the Y!

"Eleven were present out of some 30 notified by postcard. While this was not as many as we'd have liked, several not present sent their regrets at being unable to come and signified intent to join.

"At any rate, we had a brief business meeting, at which we appointed an interim executive committee, composed of Al C. Dobbs, Sr., chairman, the Rev. William M. Erhard and Mr. Fox. Their duty is to draw up a brief constitution and by-laws, recommend a club program, and fix the basic amount needed for dues (to cover postage mostly). I will act as secretary until we elect one.

"Others present at the meeting were Archie Charnock, Tom deProspero, R. F. Hartfield, Arthur L. Irwin, A. W. Paull, B. E. Stover and Maynard Wallace. We agreed to meet every Monday at 8 p. m. at the Y.

"Mr. Paull offered us the use of the auditorium of the Wheeling Stamping Co. as an alternate meeting place. This will be useful for overflow meetings, appearances of exhibition players, and possibly as a site for the state tournament when we hold it here.

"At our second meeting Monday, May 26, we did not have quite so many present, but got in quite a lot of chess, and we are not discouraged about the future.

"If any visiting chessers are here on Monday nights, they will be very welcome to drop in at our club."

KANAWHA JR. MEET ENDS IN THREE-WAY TIE

A trio of Charleston high school players tied for the junior chess championship of Kanawha County in a tournament held the week-end of May 23-25 at the Charleston YMCA--a tournament conducted by the Charleston Chess Club, with the cooperation of the Carbide Chess Club of South Charleston.

Ted Bingamon, Edward Holt and Larry Kinnamon each finished with 4-1 scores to become co-champions of the county, insofar as junior chess is concerned. David Marples of South Charleston high was fourth with 2-3, while Robert Swarbrick and Benny Argento (both of South Charleston, the former a high school student) tied for last place with $\frac{1}{2}$ -4 $\frac{1}{2}$.

The three co-champions all took part in the recent City of Charleston chess tournament, young Holt capturing second place in the consolation division. Holt and Kinnamon are high school seniors; Bingamon, a junior.

EXHIBITION BY DR. WERTHAMMER

The Carbide Chess Club of South Charleston announced that Dr. Siegfried Werthammer, state chess champion, would give an exhibition of simultaneous play at the club Monday night, June 2.

BOB HUMPHRIES LEADS AT CLARKSBURG

On the basis of reports covering play up until May 21, Dr. Robert T. Humphries, president of the Clarksburg Chess Club, is leading in the Harrison County Chess Tournament with a score of $13\frac{1}{2}$ - $2\frac{1}{2}$. This a double round robin affair with a total of 17 players taking part.

Dr. Humphries had played more games than any other contestant to date. He likely will be given plenty tough competition by Frank Wisinski, with a present score of 7-1. Two of Bob's lost points were to Frank, the club secretary. Some of the other players probably will be in there fighting, too, before it's all over. Frank lost one game, to Sam Allison, whose score is now 9-6. Ray Griffin has 3-2.

Other scores to May 21 follow: Francis Cunningham, 5-6; William Challinor and Byron Randolph, 3-3 each; Joe Michael, 2-0; Jack Faught, 2-2; Bob Malone and Kingsley Smith, 2-4 each; Jim Criss and Ray Hawkins, 2-6 each; Charles Roush, $1\frac{1}{2}$ - $\frac{1}{2}$; C. R. Lewis, $1\frac{1}{2}$ - $2\frac{1}{2}$; M. F. Allison and Jim Hamilton, 1-1 each.

CHARLESTON DOWNS CARBIDE, 14 TO 3

The Charleston Chess Club scored a 14-3 victory over the Carbide Chess Club of South Charleston on May 14 at the CCC clubrooms. Only on the 9th, 11th, 12th and 15th boards of the 17-board match did South Charleston escape defeat.

A return match was scheduled for June 9 at the Carbide club.

Here is the score, with Carbide playing white on the odd-numbered boards:

Board No.	Charleston (14)	Carbide (3)

JOHN HURT AHEAD IN KANAWHA VALLEY

The Kanawha Valley tournament got under way May 19, with alternating sessions at the Charleston and Carbide clubs. Contestants are the two highest-ranking players from the Charleston City Championship (John Hurt and Reid Holt) and the two highest from the recent Carbide Chess Club tourney (Allen DuVall and Ray Martin). The first four rounds of play resulted as follows:

Player	Round 1	Round 2	Round 3	Round 4	Player's Score
John Hurt, Jr.	Martin W	Holt D	DuVall W	Martin W	$3\frac{1}{2}$ - $\frac{1}{2}$
Allen DuVall	Holt W	Martin D	Hurt L	Holt W	$2\frac{1}{2}$ - $1\frac{1}{2}$
H. Reid Holt	DuVall L	Hurt D	Martin W	DuVall L	$1\frac{1}{2}$ - $2\frac{1}{2}$
Ray Martin	Hurt L	DuVall D	Holt L	Hurt L	$\frac{1}{2}$ - $3\frac{1}{2}$

The tournament, a double round robin, will be completed early in June. Hurt, a full game in the lead, still has important games against Holt and DuVall.

CLARKSBURG CHESS CLUB NOTES

Under the auspices of the Clarksburg Chess Club, a women's chess club has been organized, with Mrs. Hardin R. Harmer as president and Miss Rosalie Poling as vice president and secretary. The women's group will meet simultaneously with the CCC. All women interested in learning chess have been invited to attend.

The Washington Irving High School Chess Club, which also meets with the CCC, now "boasts an active membership of 13 pawn-pushers."

Maj. Daniel Calligher, regular Army officer organizing National Guard units at Clarksburg, has expressed interest in the club there and said he plans to bring some of his fellow soldiers to sessions.

Re the women players now taking part in sessions at Clarksburg, Ray Griffin writes (May 9): "I played one game against Miss Poling two or three weeks ago; it lasted an hour and a quarter, and she won. Later, she played a game against Bill Qhallinor, and won; then lost one to Dr. Humphries. She and Mrs. Harmer played five games. The score: Miss Poling, 3; Mrs. Harmer, 2. They are both pretty good."

Writes Secy. Wisinski of the Clarksburg club (May 22): "We've had so many new players entering at recent sessions that the Harrison County Tournament schedule has got slightly out of line but we hope to speed it up now. It is progressing slowly but it keeps up interest, and that's what we want. Also it gives newcomers an immediate chance to play against the old members. We haven't developed any chess geniuses yet but have some fairly good players, and they'll get better with more practice. The Francis Cunningham you asked about is from Bridgeport; he does not do badly--won a tournament game from City Champion M.F. "Hap" Allison!... If we can keep up interest thru the summer, we plan a City Tournament this fall."

An amusing note from Attorney Kingsley Smith (May 24), in re our curiosity about his ability as a chess club organizer: "My position in the chess world is that of an interested tyro who has a perpetual slow burn on because we can't get more than 20 or 30 of the hundreds of chess players in Harrison county to attend our meetings. I adhere strictly to your philosophy that the best idea is continuous publicity." (Attorney Smith is doing a fine job and we know he will be rewarded for his arduous labors with a first-class, progressive chess club.)

Clarksburg Chess Club officials say they are on the lookout for a visiting master to give a simultaneous exhibition. We hope one will be available in the near future, even tho it is a little past the formal exhibition season.

KANAWHA VALLEY CHESS NOTES

On Wednesday night, May 7, John F. Hurt, Jr., city chess champion, and Allen DuVall, champion of the Carbide club, gave a tandem simultaneous exhibition (making alternate moves on each board) at Charleston. They played 11 games against 8 opponents, winning 8, drawing 2 and losing only 1 (to Larry Kinnamon). Other opponents included Fred White, Wardell, Ted Bingamon, Delmer Robinson, Frank Branner, Bill Hartling and Ed Holt.

Final scores of leading players in the Carbide Chess Club's Swiss System tournament were as follows: Allen DuVall, 6-0; Ray Martin, $4\frac{1}{2}$ - $1\frac{1}{2}$; Dennison, Hal Liggett and Jerry McGrew, 4-2 each; K. Hughes, $3\frac{1}{2}$ - $2\frac{1}{2}$; Walter, B. Marple, David Marple and Jim Ankeney, 3-3 each; Robert Swarbrick, $2\frac{1}{2}$ - $2\frac{1}{2}$; Schilling, $2\frac{1}{2}$ - $3\frac{1}{2}$; Frances Hughes, 2-3.

PROBLEM PAGE DISCONTINUED

Effective with this issue, the Problem Page, a fixture in the WVCA since July, 1944, is being discontinued. As your editor is an enthusiastic solver himself, this step is being taken with regret and only after mature consideration and due warning to the readers. Only three persons have been participating in our solving contest this year; the number is insufficient to warrant use of an entire page for their exclusive entertainment.

We are trying to work out a plan whereby West Virginia's annual solving contest may be carried on independently of the bulletin. We hope to announce such a plan, along with answers for the last two months and current standings, in our next issue.

Our unstinted thanks go to Francis J. C. DeBlasio of Brooklyn for his unselfish months of labor to make the problem page a success, a thing he achieved insofar as the page itself was concerned. Our thanks and apologies, also, to Bertrand Mulligan, Otto Oppenheimer and other solvers whose loyalty and interest kept the page alive for nearly three years.

LETTER FROM BILL SCHAEFFER

Wm. Schaeffer of Washington, D.C., formerly Morgantown, writes (June 3): "I found Vic Lemke's 'Farewell to Chess' (May Bulletin) extremely interesting. Got a letter from him yesterday, reporting he isn't retracting a word of it. He's a grand fellow; chess will miss him...Thanks for the monthly games pages; I don't know how the other readers feel but they hit the spot with me...Has Milford Mott told you of his invasion of the Marshall club where he beat an ex-New Jersey champion? Or his conquest of Philly while vacationing there? It should make good reading if you can wheedle it out of him...The perking up at Clarksburg makes me feel good. Kingsley Smith was my nextdoor neighbor when I lived there."
